

Destinations that don't disappoint

There is more to see than time to see it at High Point Market, and key destinations feature unique products designed to transform ordinary into extraordinary with a distinctive blend of form and function. Map out your Market route, wear comfortable shoes, and enjoy the home furnishings scenery in these put-at-the-top-of-the-list locations.

COMMERCE & DESIGN [C&D] BUILDING

Beginning with Fall Market, the Commerce & Design Building is now home to Arteriors, a favorite furnishings and décor source debuting a showroom on the first floor. New for October, Arteriors will debut a collection with Windsor Smith and also highlight Celerie Kemble's line that launched in the spring, offering distinctive designer-centric lines under the Arteriors company umbrella.

Nearly three dozen showrooms are part of C&D's destination menu, including Visual Comfort, Alder & Tvede, Brentwood Classics, Butler Specialty Co. and Sarstedt. Schedule time to peruse each of the nine floors within the building to find hundreds of home furnishings and accessories lines. It's an easy-to-navigate HPMKT stop with an assortment of product possibilities.

Don't Miss: C&D Highlights Tour with Michelle Nussbaumer
October 14, 11:30 am-12:30 pm
 Sponsored by JMC-DesignOrHPMKT. This will depart from the ground floor of C&D Building.

To get a first-hand look at what interior designer Michelle Nussbaumer, Founder of Ceylon in Cir in Dallas, Texas, thinks is trending at High Point Market this fall, spend an hour on an intimate guided tour with her. Join Michelle as she introduces you to her favorite contemporary finds in the Commerce & Design (C&D) Building — a must-see for every designer and retailer looking for what's new and innovative.

RSVP required. To RSVP, visit highpointmarket.com, and go to seminars and events.
